June 6, 2011

Dear Parents and Guardians:

Summer is here, and with it comes that annual tradition – Summer Reading! This year each student will be assigned one or two books to read over the summer. During the first week of June the books will be distributed by English teachers to all students who will be attending East Hampton High School in September. The only exceptions are those students who are registered for the Syracuse University Project Advance English courses; they must purchase their own copy of Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress by Dai Sijie.

Below is a list of books that have been assigned to students. Please refer to the grade your child will enter in September of 2011. If students wish to take any of the summer reading tests during the summer, they may come to the John M. Marshall Elementary School between 8:30 AM and 10:30 AM any weekday starting Monday, July 11 and ending Friday, August 5. The librarian will have copies of all the tests. All other testing will be done on Friday of the first week of school in September.

If you have any questions, I can be reached at 329-4165. Enjoy your summer and please encourage your children to read.

Sincerely,

Eric Ferraro

English Department Coordinator
